

Supt. Clarke returned Monday night from his usual week-end trip to Calgary. He reports an army of idle men walking the streets in the oil city, with no work in sight.