

Forty-six members of the Canadian expeditionary force have been sent back home by the British war authorities because they were of alien birth. It is presumed these men were German-Canadians from Western Ontario or the western Provinces.