

General Manager Glaubitz, of the Utilities Commission, London, who was charged with having assisted a German reservist to leave the country, has announced that he will take a position with an engineering firm in New York.