

Search for Alien Enemies Delayed

Preparations Under Way, How- ever; Will Start Out in Few Days

The military search parties did not start out to-day on their proposed investigation of the foreign quarters of Toronto for the purpose of rounding up alien enemies who have failed to report at the Bureau of Registration. Captain Wandless and the office staff of the bureau were making preparation to-day, however, for the proposed searches. These will take place in a day or two, by which time the authorities hope to have some interesting particulars to guide them.

A few unregistered aliens turned up at the bureau to-day, and as they gave good reasons why they could not report yesterday their applications for identification cards were accepted. Two of these applicants were women.
