

Austrian Goes Insane.—An Austrian named Frank Luker was arrested by the city police authorities Tuesday night. Examination proved him to be insane. He had been attending the unemployment meetings around town, and the doctrines preached by the speakers preyed on his mind. While being held for insanity Luker kept exclaiming "You're a Social Democrat, you're all right."