

At Guelph it has been deemed necessary to release some fifty Austrians and Hungarians interned as alien enemies because their services and experience were necessary to keep certain Canadian industries in successful operation. Most of the aliens in Canada who are now for the time being counted as enemies were invited here by the Government or by people who needed their services. Anything like wholesale indiscriminating arrest, as is shown in this case, might not only be unjust to the victims, but would be embarrassing to the communities in which they have settled.
