

Internment Camp Notes

"The Banff boys of the 103. Calgary Rifles have put in a very wet week since they left here for the camp. It has rained hard every day, and there has been work for all digging post holes, cutting brush and clearing. The man who caused them to move from their first camp site, which was partly cleared, and located the present camp in the heart of the bush, with all kinds of brush and dead timber to clear has not had exactly blessings called down on his head, though no doubt the authority to move was good.

On Sunday last nine men from the Calgary Contingent of the Guard arrived, and heard all the tales of woe.

The grub is good, but some say will get better:

The O. C. arrived late Monday night on a velocipede and it is rumoured that some "Happy" Banff soldier fell into a slough carrying his baggage up.

D. M. Soole was in Calgary last week, where he joined the 103rd. as Orderly Room Sergeant. He left for the camp on Sunday morning, and has been busy since with the typewriter. His business here (Banff) is being well looked after by his partner J. D. Hansen, and any further matters may be sent up to him.
