

John Karaluk appeared before Magistrate Elliot this morning on a charge of treason, it being alleged that he ferried across the river Austerlitz, who were trying to escape from the country. He was remanded for eight days.