

ARREST GERMAN AGENT

V. D. Crevier Taken in Ontario; Delivered Addresses in Schools.

(Western Associated Press.)

CHATHAM, Ont., Sept. 17.—A man giving the name of V. D. Crevier, suspected by many of being a German agent, was arrested near Loldsville yesterday. He had been delivering addresses at public schools throughout the eastern portion of the county, and his talks were of the pro-German variety. He obtained permission to address the pupils by stating that he had been authorized by the dominion government to deliver addresses on the war. He declares that he was in the Belgian army when war broke out, and later escaped to Canada from a German prison camp.
