

WAR PRISONERS BUILD WALL.

On Sides of Sloping Road In Fort Henry.

The prisoners of war in Fort Henry have been constructing a wall on either side of a sloping road from the upper to the lower courts, and finished their work on Thursday. The Militia Department has been supervising the work and the wall is a good job. The prisoners will now be put on other work around the fort. The work is not compulsory for any prisoner.