

Home Guards Called Out.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 8.—While the sudden panic of fear for the safety of arsenals, bridges, canals, etc., has resulted in the calling out of the home guard contingents in several localities along the Niagara border, the company at Niagara Falls, Ontario, is not yet out.

At this point there are a number of regular troops on guard at the international bridge, the big power plants and the Welland canal. To strengthen these guards the home guard companies at Welland, Bridgeburg and St. Catharines have been called upon to supply a certain quota of men.
