Suspicious Letters and Document on Man Arrested at Hamilton

Hamilton, Feb. 9.—Harry Peters, an alleged alien enemy, under arrest here, was committed for trial today. The police told of hearing him discussing shell-making and of finding in his possession several lists with soldiers' names and addresses on them and newspaper clippings regarding munition works. A letter with the name clipped off, dated from Windsor, told of opportunities there for getting employment in shell plants and asking that Peters "bring along with you the five thousand dollars you made in the summer. Otherwise, good-bye until Niagara Falls."

Peters refused to say who sent the letter. While of German descent he said he was born in Berlin, Ont., and was engaged as a canvasser for a photograph company.
