

Some of the Austrian aliens who have been interned in New Ontario since the beginning of the war, and have been employed in clearing land, are likely to settle down there as farmers when the war is over.