

A hundred and fifty Austrians released from the Port William internment camp were taken to work in Creighton Mine, near Sudbury.