

THEY ARE UNDESIRABLES.

Major Campbell Seeks Assistance of United States Consul.

As soon as Major P. G. C. Campbell, commanding the Fort Henry internment camp, heard that the two German prisoners who escaped last Wednesday had arrived at Clayton, N.Y., he asked United States Consul Johnson to inform the Washington Government, so that the men might be deported as undesirables. The Germans stole a boat at Gananoque, and are therefore thieves.
