

ALIENS AND WESTERN

HOMESTEADS

The right of acquiring homesteads in the Canadian West will, it is officially announced, hereafter be limited to British subjects or the citizens of Allied or neutral countries.

For several years Canada spent about a million dollars a year in promoting immigration. A good deal of this money was spent in bringing people from continental Europe, and several thousands of these are now in the West. These people will now, apparently, be between the devil and deep sea. They are outcasts here, and they cannot very well return home. Their one avenue of escape, seemingly, will be to move over to the States and assist in the development of that country.—Sun.
