This is Allegation Before Parliamentary Committee on Returned Soldiers, and Sir Herbert Ames Promises to Press Matter to End-Half a Dozen Land Schemes for Western Provinces---Report Expected April 28

of public the Possibly the last meetings of the Parliamentary Com-mittee on Returned Soldiers was held yesterday in Toronto. The members returned to Ottawa by the late train and though a few meetings are ex-pected to be held for the consider-ation of details, it was understood that evidence was closed with the that evidence was closed with the mass which the committee has avail-able. The report will be presented to Parliament, so far as can be fore-seen, about April 28.

Twas Western Day.

scen, about April 23. 'Twns Western Day. 'Twns Western Day. Yesterday was a Western day. Wit-nesses from Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia put forward points of view differing no-ticeably from the main complaints in the East. Inadequacy of pension to uneet the Western scale of living was one; duplication of returned soldiers' committees was another; and the ultra-democratic desire to put almost all pensions on an equal scale was a third. One aired more fully than all others, the underlying suspicion in soldiers' minds, that someone profited by the believed differences in their paysheets and what they anticipated. The retention of the paybooks chief-ly in Quebec and in Canadian camps in England seemed to be the ground the men most disliked, though a Brit-rected the prevalent notion so far as his own pay was concerned. It had open given down to the last cent, even to the exchange rates. Col. Marlow's Evidence.

Col. Mariow's Evidence.

At the morning session a letter was read from Col. Marlow in protest against the elimination of his evi-dence. "What portion is to be elimin-

"What portion is to be elimin-ated?" asked Mr. Pardec. "The portion I read," replied the Chairman, referring to the statements of Mr. Bennett when he asked Col. Marlow if he had endeavored to se-cure Col. Thompson's position, and witness had replied that: "I am an officer and a gentleman, and I did not come-here to be insuited." It was decided to leave out evi-dence in the morning report, as well as Col. Marlow's protest of the af-ternoon.

ternoon. John McRae explained the nature of the help given soldiers and de-pendents by the Returned Soldiers' Association of Winnipeg: 475 out of 1,000 had been aided, while assist-ance to wives and other depend-onts is not repaid. When exploitation of returned men was alleged, Mr. R. B. Bennett ask-ed:

ed: "Ts there any doubt that the men themselves believe they are being ex-ploited?" "If they do, their assumption is "The they do, their assumption is

"I they do, their assumption is incorrect," was the response. "Just what do you mean by ex-ploitation?" queried Mr. Pardee. "I mean putting them under ob-ligation to a society that it may have a hold on them and use them for its own ends, political and otherwise." replied Mr. Bennett.

"No Pussy-footing."

"No Passy-footing." Sir Herbert Ames and Mr. Pardec pretested. The latter accused Mr. Bennett of directing questions at the witness with ulterior motives. The Director of National Service replied that he was there to ask certain ques-tions and he proposed to do it. If he couldn't he was quite willing to withdraw from the committee. He was only asking a cold-blooded ques-tion. This "pussy-footing" was not his idea of running a Commission. Mr. G. Harmon Jones, of the Sol-diers' Ald Commission. Regina, sketced a plan for the settlement of the returned soldier on the land as follows: (1) Rural settlement farms of 160 acres each; (2) community-centre farms of 30 acres ;(3) small truck farms with so much land al-lotted to each returned soldior. The second type of farm would be of an educational nature. The men would be undergoing training. Lecturers would be sent out from the univer-sities to give instruction.

Notes Some Improvements.

Notes Some Improvements. At the afternoon session evidence was given by three Alberta men, Sergt.-Major Gulifoyle, Pte. C. Wells and Pte. Harold Hodgson, of the European War Veterans' Association, Calgary. It was stated that in Cal-gary soldiers were desirous of taking 'up small plots of land for vegetables, etc. Sergt.-Major Gulifoyle remark-el that the Pension Staff before Jan-mary last 'was either inadequato or incompetent,'' but since its improve-ment and the centralizing of the pen-sions' office 90 per cent. of the com-plaints had stopped. A separate asylum for insane soldiers also was suggested, so that a man would not have to mix with criminal lunatics or allen born enemies. It would be self-supporting, as the men's pensions would be diverted. An orphange for soldiers' children where the guardian-ship was not satisfactory, and that artificial limbs be made in the west were other suggestions. There was at Calgary an artificial limb factory, so that the waste of time and troublo in going to Toronto would be avoided. About twelve men were employed in that at Calgary. Hon. Chas. Murphy-More than they have here? Inadequate Pensions.

Inadequate Pensions.

Inadequate Pensions. A Government tailoring factory for uniform making was another sugges-tion. These Western witnesses also complained of the inadequacy of the pension of $480. The average wage of laborers was $54 a month in the West, and $40 was not enough to keep him. Sergt-Major Guilfoyle said he would make an exception in the case of the higher commands which had usually been secured by merit, but there were cases where the gompany officer was the social inferior in private life, and often depended on a n.c.o while in the service. "The present pensions act is not favorably received by the rank and file, and we are anxious to remove grievances and to prevent their recurrence." Waited Eight Months For Pension.

Waited Eight Months For Pension.

Walted Eight Months For Pension. Pie. Hodgson gave details of his own case, where he suid he was eight months before he got his first pen-sion, "My papers were lost for a long time, but were found at the office of the A. D. M. S. in an old box thrown aside." He was not medical-ily examined when his pension was re-duced from $16 to $8 a month. Mr. F. F. Pardee—You have not been examined yet?—No, sir; it was a case of my being seen with my tothes on. Mine was a guess case. Another proposal of Sergt.-Major fue franchise for at least the next five years. "Those men in Saskatche-wan have the majority of the votes, and these alien votes will be detri-mental to the soldier. Once a Ger-man always a German." It should be done by legislation. Taking Away Titles.

imittee and on the public generally, if you have proof of that kind, to let us have it. What has ben the chief trouble about pay, delay?-Yes, de-lay. llay Irouse about pusy exactly a second pusy of the result of the Returned Sol-diers' Commission, Victoria, B.C., spoke of work on the Pucific coast. Out of 680 positions found by them, only nineteen were of men who went on farms. They had to secure an aver-iage of ten jobs for every seven men. Pay Correct to a Cent.

Pay Correct to a Cent. Mr. II. W. Hart and Mr. W. Drin-nain of the Returned Soldiers' Associ-tation of the Province of British Col-umbia, gave evidence. They had no complaints about pay in British Col-umbia, as all was quickly settied by clirect reference to the Paymaster. In the case of Mr. Hart he said his pay was exact down to the last cent, in-cluding methods they said were be-ing used at Winniper, where return-ied soldiers had no part in the bodies. In British Columbia fifty per cent, of the men returning there did not coriginally come from that Province. Capt. Brown of the National Coun-cil of the Y. M. C. A. also gave eri-dence, and the committee closed its ression until it re-assembles to con-isider its report.

Taking Away Titles.
Hon. Chas. Murphy—Your legislation would follow that in the old country, where they are taking away the titles of the Duke of Albany and the Duke of Cumberland?
Witness—Shouid have been done long ago. (Laughter.)
Hon. Chas. Murphy—I quite agree with you.
The coldness of the receptions given to returned men was mentloned and witnesses thought a Government Reception Committee should be appointed in each centre. "The only reception a soldler gets in some places now is from the porter and his wife and children; that is occurring perhaps, by the public becoming so familiar that the spirit of the welcome is dying." Sergt.-Major Guilióyle and Pte. Wells both believed men would go on the land if a suitable scheme were worked.
Mr. W. A. MacDonald of the Edmonton Veterans' Association was questioned at some length by the four of the numerous complaints of returned men about questions of pay. Witness stated categorically that mine out of ten returned men about getons of pay. Witness tated categorically that mine out of getting a duplicate of the Government paybook. The may question was causing a lot of dissatisfaction.

Some Mistakes, but

Some Mistakes, but—... The Chairman—This matter of pay has come in many times. Have any men given reasons or expressed the belief that their pay statement is not correctly prepared? Do the men suspect or believe that their pay statements in England or hero have been incorrectly prepared?—Un-doubtedly, in some cases they do. Do they think it was a mistake or that it was deliberate?—I may say in some cases they think it was deliber-ate.

Dishonesty Alleged.

The allegation is made that there has been dishonesty?--Yes, when takking about things amongst our-selves; the thing remains in some men's minds. Where would that be, in England or in Canada? So far as overseas men are concerned in England and in France 3 d đ

Have they ever been able to pre-sent anything tangible in support of that suspicion?—I have never taken the matter up. 8
