

Disenfranchisement of Alien Voters, Aim of Next-of-Kin Order

An active campaign to disenfranchise alien voters in Winnipeg will be inaugurated at once by the Great War Next-of-Kin association, according to the announcement made by Mrs. J. C. Cameron today.

Temporary quarters are located in the Industrial bureau, but other offices will be secured this week, Mrs. Cameron said. Winnipeg women who have husbands and sons at war will be urged to become members of the association. They will be urged to do all in their power to obtain cheaper food.

"We will do all we can to disenfranchise the foreign vote, Mrs. Cameron declared. "We believe that the government should take this action in the interests of women who have relatives at the front."
