

Ukrainians of Canada Send Delegates to Paris

(Canadian Associated Cable.)

London, Feb. 20.—Joseph Megas and John Petrussevitch have arrived here representing the Ukrainians of Canada, their intention being to proceed to Paris "with a view to assisting and advising delegates to the Peace Conference on behalf of the Ukrainian people."

They come with the concurrence of the Dominion Government, but naturally their passports to France will be at the Imperial Government's discretion.

Twenty Rhodes Scholars Were Killed During 1918

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, Feb. 20.—Twenty Rhodes scholars and ex-scholars were killed during 1918, including six South Africans, two Australians and one Canadian. Military honors were awarded to twenty-eight, including seven South Africans, nine Australians and nine Canadians.

HAVE A HEART.

A sweet young thing went into a music store and asked: "Have you 'A Heart That Beats For Me'?" And the salesman panted. He hadn't got it. Now it would be hard to stump us on any kind of woollens for any kind of garments that you may need. Is it a business suit, an afternoon suit, an evening suit or a morning coat suit? We are here with the goods and the ability to make to please you at reasonable prices. Follett, Civil and Military Tailor, 133 Yonge Street.
