

The Spirit of the Press

Foreigner and His Knife.

Winnipeg Tribune :—Once more the southern European's knife has taken a human life in Winnipeg—once more the moral sense of the community has been shocked by a murder—once more the moral tone of the city must suffer by the unrestrained violence of the semi-savage and by the legal brutality that must of necessity follow. Attention has been repeatedly called to the danger of permitting foreigners, unused to the advantages of equal liberty, law and order, to carry weapons that they have only too freely used since boyhood—weapons that are designed to be used to commit crime.

A Hint to Mr. Whitney.

Kingston Whig :—Perhaps the Premier will come to see himself as others see him, and so learn to put a check or brake upon his indignation. His frequent scolds are unbecoming and undignified. fore it.

Name, Please.

Moncton, N.B., Times :—It is said one of the New Brunswick representatives at Ottawa, having a good supply of trunks on hand from those provided at the public expense, wanted to exchange his allowance for a set of double harness.

All Agreed on This Question.

Brantford Expositor :—Rev. J. A. MacDonald, the editor of The Toronto Globe in speaking in Detroit, declared that the man who advocated a chain of fort along the frontier between Canada and the United States would be a traitor to his country. The talented editor is merely preaching what he has already practise in journalism. Moreover, he says in the States precisely what he has said in Canada. The declaration is emphatic, but is sound and has met with hearty approval on both sides of the border. Unquestionably the mission of the two great countries on this continent is above warfare.
