

LOCAL INTEREST IN KRAFCHEN-

FO.

---

Krafchenko, the Plum Coulee murderer, to-day pays the penalty for his crime with his life on the gallows. Last week a petition bearing ten thousand signatures was presented to the Minister of Justice praying for executive clemency, but the Minister declined to interfere with the sentence. Krafchenko, it will be remembered, murdered a bank manager at Plum Coulee, Man., some months ago, and afterwards aroused considerable excitement by his daring escape from prison, aided by outside accomplices. His case has some interest locally because of the fact that he lived in this section a few years ago and worked on the C. P. R. as a section hand, while his wife is a young lady from Westmeath township. Those who know him speak of him as a man of good appearance, and his record while in this district appears to have been an honorable one. In the west, however, he seems to have gone bad and to have developed into a reckless and daring criminal.