

Canadian Greeks Are Ready to Fight

Hundreds Who Joined in the Balkan War Eager to Enlist

To the Editor of The News.

Many hundreds of young Greeks who only lately returned from the last two victorious campaigns against Turkey and Bulgaria, and who are still smelling gun powder, crowd our office asking for information, and expressing their utmost desire to go and fight for Great Britain this time, in case our mother country, Greece, keeps neutral, although she declared, through its Premier, Mr. Venizelos, that in case of a European war, into which England and France should be involved, Greece would stand with Great Britain. So we all are ready to shed our blood for our new country.

Theo Pappas,

Secretary-treasurer, Greek-
Canadian Employment Agency,
Toronto, Aug. 2, 1914.