

Boys Placed Under Arrest.

Three lads found out, on Saturday afternoon, that it was very unwise to carry firearms in the vicinity of Fort Henry, where the prisoners of war are confined. At about four o'clock the guard on duty at the fort noticed that the lads had climbed up into the tower at Navy Bay. He immediately ordered them to get down and come up to the gate, which they did. The guard discovered that one of the trio was carrying a rifle and placed the three under arrest. They were marched into the fort and detained for a few minutes. The boys received a good scare.
