

SUSPECTED SPY ENTERS SUIT.

C. C. Brandt, Jeweler, Sues City of Montreal for $10,000.

Montreal, Sept. 14.—C. C. Brandt, a prominent jeweller and diamond merchant of this city, who was arrested a short time ago by the police on suspicion of being a German spy, and who was later released, has entered an action against this city for $10,000 damages for false arrest.

Brandt, whose place of business is at 137 McGill street, who has been a resident of Montreal for eight years, claims that he was arrested without justification, and alleges that he was subjected to unnecessary humiliation.
