London, Sept. 19.—In the great steel and glass pavilion known as the Olympia, where only a few months ago fashion and nobility gathered for the annual military tournament and the horse show, there are now detained some six hundred Germans, Austrians and Hungarians whom his Majesty's Government thinks best to keep under key until the end of the war. The number often passes six hundred, but the daily arrivals are reduced by drafts being sent to the detention camps in the country.

At Least 50,000 to Guard.

Neither the British Government nor the officials working in the German-Austrian departments of the American Embassy and Consulate know the number of these alien enemies in the United Kingdom. Estimates range from fifty to eighty thousand, including women and children. Most of the better class have received police permits to remain at liberty, reporting at stated times to the stations. Of these many continue in employment, although the discharging of clerks, teachers, governesses and servants is becoming more common as the war feeling grows.

Women Draw From Fund.

The women who are required to register with the police are supported by charitable funds or out of the 200,000 marks (50,000), appropriated by the German Government for the relief of subjects in England. But the vast majority of unemployed and penniless, who are a charge on society and a source of concern to the police, have been gathered into various detention camps.

2,000 Held at Aldershot.

There are a number of these camps in England. The one near Aldershot has over 2,000 inmates. They live in a tent city within a barbed wire enclosure. As an extra inducement to remain inside the barbed wire, the prisoners are deprived of their shoes. Other large camps are at Liverpool and Manchester. Many of them will be put to work as are aliens in Germany.
