Toronto.

Early next week will see fifteen I prisoners of war under guard at Stanley Barracks, gathered in by the cauthorities in different parts of the Province. At present there are three Germans under arrest at the Barracks. Others have been taken in different parts of the Province and arrangements have been made so that they will be sent to Toronto to that they will be sent to Toronto to be looked after.

The latest is Carl Von Bimberg, a German reservist. He is a university graduate, and at the time war broke out was in London, England, and came under the notice of the police along with every other German in the Old Country. - As in the case of others, he was not allowed to be further than five miles away from go further than five miles away from his place of residence without re-ceiving a permit. Bimberg crossed the ocean and came to Toronto.

He declares that he had a permit to leave and gave it to the officer in; to leave and gave it to the officer in charge of the ship on which he crossed. Bimberg will be held until the authorities investigate this claim. The police say that he declared that it he could possibly make his way to Germany he would certainly assist. his country, and this was taken as sufficient justification for action by the police. Bimberg has thirteen brothers and cousins in the German army. The police allege that his father was killed in South Africa, where he was fighting in the Boer army.

A large open space is being fenced off at the Barracks with a double barrier around it to serve as a detention camp for the Austrian and German prisoners. German prisoners.

The block formerly used by the Dragoons is also to be fixed up for the use of the foreigners. As there are 150 military prisoners at Fort Henry, gathered from all over the Province, it is likely that the barracks will be given more to take care of and some of those at Fort Henry may be transferred here. The Governor-General's Body Guard has a detach-s ment at the barracks and part of their duty will be the responsibility to flooking after the prisoners.
