

Foreigner at the Filtration Plant

Bulgarian Arrested—Refused to Give Explanation of Presence

The soldiers on duty at the Island have been experiencing lots of trouble lately with foreigners who prowl about during the night. One such, Eli Danoff, a Bulgarian, was found hanging around the filtration plant late Saturday night and was arrested. He was brought over to the city and lodged in the cells at No. 1 police station on a charge of vagrancy. He refused to give an explanation of his movements at the Island, although he speaks English well.
