

Want To Be Naturalized.

Several foreigners in the city are applying for naturalization papers. The majority are Russians, who have been on construction work during the summer and are now living in the city. They are afraid that if trouble arose, they could not be able to produce papers to show what nationality they are. The men who are applying are as a rule simple, hard-working foreigners. A German applied for naturalization to an official on Thursday, but he took the hint from the official's look and "beat it."
