There will no doubt be many celebrities from the United States, and among those who have been here, arriving last Wednesday, were W. Farrell, wife and daughter, President of the U.S. Steel Corporation. They stayed the week.

Some to arrive are Nath Straus and wife, who are on their wedding trip, and are to arrive in July. Mr. Straus is the head of the famous paper "Puck."

The governors of New Jersey and Maryland with their parties are also due in the mountains in the near future, as well as Senator Walberg, President of the B. & M. Railway.

The mountains will buzz with head lines from all over the continent, and the blue-bloods of United States capitols will be a common sight in Banff during July and August.
