
TORONTO.

Lieut.-Col. Mewburn took over the work of Colonel Elliot at Exhibition Camp.

Additional results of University of Toronto student examinations are announced.

Directions are issued for communicating by post with Canadian prisoners of war in Germany.

Fire caused $20,000 damage at the factory of the National Mattress, Felt & Hatting Company.

Letters from Canadian soldiers at the front show that they exacted big toll from the enemy at Langemarck.

The Polson Company is constructing a new tug for use by the Government at Hudson Bay which resembles a submarine.

The militia authorities are making preparations for the establishment of convalescent homes for returning Canadian wounded soldiers.

THE DOMINION.

Encouraging reports are received of crop prospects in Saskatchewan.

Liquor men in Saskatchewan urged the Government to consider their claims to compensation.

A clearing hospital for wounded Canadians is to be established at Valcartier.

Port Arthur City Council wishes alien enemies not sent east for internment, but retained to clear land, according to alleged Government promise.

Hindley Beattie, only son of the late Maj. Thomas Beattie, M.P., of London, Ont., cut off with $100 a year, gets $10,000 now and $25,000 on the death of an aunt, as the result of a settlement.

Several Canadians mourned as dead have now been heard from or reported as prisoners in Germany, some in hospitals; among them are Heber Rogers of Peterboro'; Sergt. A. V. Hardwick, Montreal; Lieut. H. E. Lloyd Owen, Port Arthur, and Pte. McJain Smith of St. Thomas.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

The United States fleet left New York for the manoeuvres off the coast.

There was excitement in the British Commons when a stranger seized the mace.

Thirteen millionaires were pall-bearers at the funeral of the late S. H. Knox at Buffalo.

The British Admiralty confirmed the report of the loss of an Australian submarine in the Dardanelles.