

ITALIAN RESERVISTS FROM MICHIGAN CROSSED THE RIVER

30 are on Their way Home
From Copper Country to go on Firing Line

About 30 Italian reservists were aboard the train that came in at 10.30 yesterday over the South Shore on their way to New York to take ship for home and the fighting line. The party were in high spirits and enthusiastic over the prospects of getting into the fray. They were from the copper country, and their coach flew the Italian flag below the stars and stripes. A transfer was made to the C.P.R. here, and they continued their journey through Canada.
