

SEVEN ITALIAN RESERVISTS LEFT FOR HOME TODAY

Sault Men are Bound for Naples, via Montreal and
New York

130 MEN WILL BE
.. PICKED UP DOWN LINE

Italians are Enlisting Daily—
Additional Classes are Now Being Called In

Seven more Italian reservists are leaving the city at noon for Sunny Italy to fight for their country. The men will go to New York via Montreal, from whence they sail for Naples. One hundred and thirty more reservists from points down the line will join those from the city.

The Star is informed by Royal Consular Agent William Grassi that more men are enlisting daily, and the classes that were not called in before are being called in now. The names of the Sault reservists who leave today are; Giuseppe Bortolla, Gregori Magnon, Arnaldo Macellari, Jean Piner, Primo Spagnaro, Giuseppe Fadaltie, Giosuepi Filippo.