

Fort Prisoners Await Germans to Free Them

A school of languages has been started at Fort Henry for the prisoner of war confined there. There are prisoners there who are very well educated, and English, German, French, Spanish and Portuguese are being taught to all who care to study. The instructors are prisoners, and the classes, which are purely voluntary, are held every day except Saturdays and Sundays, the former always being observed as a holiday by Britain's enemies.

There are now over 400 in the fort under Lieut.-Col. J. J. H. Fee's guardianship, and they seem to be getting along quite happily, and confident that the German soldiers will soon come and release them from captivity.
