A parcel arrived at Fort Henry for a German prisoner of war. It was from a Canadian at the front, and had been returned to the German, who had sent it as a gift to the Canadian, whom he had known before the war broke out.