

The members of the 103rd regiment, on duty at the internment camps, have been known locally as home guards. This appellation is wrong. The officers and men are a part of the active militia of Canada and are on active service.