

DISMISSAL OF KASTELLA.

A return laid on the table of the Commons shows, as was stated by The Journal some time ago, that Auguste Kastella, mechanical superintendent of dredges, was dismissed for purchasing at exorbitant prices and without calling for tenders, useless supplies of an inferior quality. Kastella is a native of Germany, and his dismissal created a good deal of interest on that account some months ago.