

A bunch of interns took a fancied exception to the quality of the "grub" served out to them at the mid-day meal, Monday, quit their job and marched back to the corral, the only thing left for the guards was to trail along behind the strikers. The prisoners receive the same quality of food as the soldiers, and an abundance of it. It might not be a bad idea to "gentle" a few of the leaders with a pickaxe handle, or cut down the food supply when they refuse to work.
