

Four Austrians were arrested at Sarnia for breaking their parole by leaving the city and going to Detroit and Port Huron to send their wages back to their families in Austria.