

Ethel Moreland was charged with being a vagrant and living with an Australian prisoner of war. On promising to return to her home on the Solomon farm on the Garden River road she was allowed to go until called on for sentence.