

Austrian Claims

2 Nationalities;

Caught Both Ways

---

"I am a Canadian," said Mike Woosock, of Geroux, when asked why he had not registered as an alien enemy.

"I am an Austrian and cannot be made to fight," he said when asked by a Dominion police officer why he had not registered for military service.

Woosock, arraigned in provincial police court today, was confronted with the two assertions he had made. Minto barracks officials will determine his nationality for Magistrate Noble handed Woosock over to the military authorities who assert they have him for not registering no matter what nationality he proves to be.

There were nine draft evaders in provincial police court today and all were handed over to the military authorities.
