Returned Soldiers Forced Winnipeg Socialists to Kiss Union Jack.

Winnipeg, Jan. 27.—Returned soldiers broke up a mass meeting organized by the Social Democrats of this city to call for the repeal of orders-in-Council restricting speech and literature. Furniture and Socialist propaganda were seized by the veterans, and thrown through the windows to the street; the red flag was wrested from the Socialist leaders, and several of the latter were compelled to kiss the Union Jack. Those who refused were severely handled. Military pickets arrived on the scene to restore order.
