

12 WAR PRISONERS MADE THEIR ESCAPE FROM ALIEN CAMP

Germans Tunnelled Way Out in Blizzard When It Was 10 Below Zero

Halifax, Jan. 19.—In the worst blizzard of the season, with the thermometer ten below zero, twelve of the German prisoners of war escaped from the internment camp at Amherst Monday night and are still at large.

An investigation showed that they had succeeded in tunneling their way out during the night.