

GLAD TO BE INTERNED.

German Taken From U. S. Boat in
St. John Tells of Fighting.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

St. John, N.B., Jan. 27.—Herman Fulkandort and William Warran were taken to the internment camp at Amherst yesterday. They are Germans who were employed as stewards on the American' ocean-going tug Itamos, formerly the Tabasco, of New York. When it was learned that they were Germans the officers in charge of the duty arrested them.

Fulkandort said he was glad to be arrested and would much sooner remain in prison in Canada until after the war than return to Germany. He said he came from a village in Saxony and his father and three brothers had already been killed. Out of the population of his village every man between eighteen and forty-five years of age had been at the front and he himself had been called for. Warran had little to say, except that he felt sure Germany would win. Nothing was found on the men.
