

The road from Vernon to Monashee presents quite an exciting aspect since the advent of the alien prisoners detailed for road repairs on the Edgewood road. Transport, bag and baggage follow in their train, besides weekly supplies for the camp. On Saturday Col. Ogilvie, D. O. C., Major Ridgway Wilson, inspector of alien internment camps; Capt. J. W. Clarke, commandant of the camp, and Lieut. H. E. Homer Dixon spent the night at Richlands, proceeding to the Monashee camp next day for inspection. The permanent camp officials consist of Capt. J. W. Clarke, commandant, who has seen service in the Boer War. Lieuts. H. E. Homer Dixon, Sellers and Greer, A. S. C., and the doctor, C. Swinerton, C. A. M. C. Everybody seems to be settling down at the camp splendidly. On Wednesday the provincial inspector of roads passed through the district.
