

CAPT. MILNE TO HEAD 6TH REGT.

Transfer of Lieut.-Col. Hulme and Other Officers to 62nd Battalion Means Several Changes.

With the transfer of Lieut.-Col. Hulme, former commanding officer of the 6th Regiment, D. C. O. R., to the command of the newly formed 62nd battalion, and with the transfer of other 6th Regiment officers to overseas units, certain promotions and changes have been made in the officers of the 6th Regiment.

The most important of these were announced today. Major A. Rowan, formerly senior major of the 6th Regiment, has been promoted to be lieutenant-colonel, and will continue in charge of the various military units on Vancouver Island outside of the city of Victoria. He will also have superintendence of the internment camp at Nanaimo.

Captain Charles Milne will be placed temporarily in command of the 6th Regiment, and will have as adjutant Mr. Elmore Meredith, who will take the place of Captain Boulton, who is going overseas with the 62nd battalion.
