

Von Kluck's Nephew Interned in West

His Teutonic Sympathies Got Him Into Trouble at Lethbridge

Lethbridge, Man., Nov. 18.—Dr. Hans Muller, who claims to be a relative of the great Von Kluck, the German commander, and who has resided at Stoney Plain, has been interned at Lethbridge.

Herr Doctor is an expert in chemistry. His expressions of his Hunnish sympathies have aroused the indignation of many people here. He was asked to report, and gave his word that he would not try to leave Canada. A week or so ago he asked permission to go to the States. This was refused. He then withdrew his promise, and immediately an escort was sent out from Calgary to bring him in. The doctor is 35 years of age and a nephew of the German general. He has been in Canada eighteen months.
