

After being in command of the 99th Regiment for the past ten months, Capt. H. R. Harrington has been promoted to the rank of honorary captain and will take over the position of paymaster with the 181st Battalion. Capt. Harrington has been for many years well known to military men in the west and was among the first to offer his services for overseas duty. He was rejected for overseas duty, but given the leadership of the 99th, which regiment has guarded interned aliens for over a year.

Prior to the war Capt. Harrington was an active member of the firm of the Brandon Construction Co., being secretary-treasurer of the firm for several years.

It is expected that Lieut. James Rigg, another well-known Brandon officer, will take charge of prisoners of war.
