

Withdraw Charge of Sedition Against Father Phillipow

The charge of sedition against the Rev. Father Anastasius Phillipow, a priest of the Basilian order of the Ruthenian Catholic church, who was alleged to have advised Austrians to leave Canada and join the Teutonic forces, was withdrawn by the military authorities in the provincial police court Tuesday afternoon.

T. J. Murray representing the accused, said that investigation had satisfied him there was no guilt on the part of Father Phillipow, and what he had said was that there was no liberty in Russia, and that there was some liberty in Germany and Austria. He had not said anything about the British empire to which he was thoroughly loyal.
