More prisoners were interned at Kapuskasing camp, east of Hearst, last week. The A. C. R. handled 103 prisoners into Hearst from Fort William, and 38 from the Sault. This brings the number of prisoners at the camp to about 1,200, under guard of 200 officers and men. It is expected that before October there will be at least 2,000 prisoners at the camp.

The statement was made to the Star this morning that there was a splendid opening for Sault merchants as regards supplies for the camp inasmuch as the A. C. R. have published the same rates through to the camp via Hearst as apply from North Bay via Lathorn.
