

The Italian and Russian freight handlers of the Northern Navigation sheds returned to work after having been on strike for four days. From now on 300 men will be employed in the sheds.